

Information Security Summit 2004

11-12 November 2004, Sheraton Hotel, Hong Kong

Management Challenges for Effective Information Security Governance

About the Summit

The Information Security Summit is an international event with the aim to give participants practical insights into the information security industry. Following the success of the inaugural in November 2003, this year's Summit continues to demonstrate a strong alliance of many leading organizations in the information security field. They include Hong Kong Productivity Council, British Standards Institution, Hong Kong Computer Emergency Response Team Coordination Centre, Hong Kong Computer Society Information Security Specialist Group, Information Systems Audit and Control Association HK Chapter, and Professional Information Security Association. It shows a strong support from the industry to the development of information security in the region.

Program Highlight

The Summit will consist of both technology and management streams running concurrently over the course of the two-day period.
